7. PROCEDURE

(a) Employees who are going to be unavoidably late or absent must notify their immediate supervisor as early as possible, but no later than [fifteen (15) minutes] after the start of a shift.

The supervisor's manager should be notified if the immediate supervisor is not available. Failing that, the notification should be provided to the [Human Resources Department].

(b) Employees must notify their supervisors each day they are absent.

(c) Late employees must report directly to their supervisors upon arriving at work.

(d) The pay of a late employee will be reduced by [one-quarter (1/4) of an hour] for each [fifteen (15) minutes or less] of lateness.

- On the day of an employee's return to work, the employee shall notify their immediate supervisor of the reasons for their absence. The hours of absence and reasons shall be noted by the supervisor in the employee absence record.
- Approval from their supervisor must be obtained for employees who need to leave work for unavoidable reasons preferably at least one prior to the day requested. Early leaving will be treated the same as lateness for payroll purposes.
- On a weekly basis, supervisors shall monitor attendance and complete absence records.

The Employee Absence Record shown in attachment B is used for this purpose.

- Supervisors are responsible:
 - To initiate counselling and formal discipline as warranted.
 - Use of discipline as last resort in controlling absenteeism.
 - Informal counselling should be the primary method to be used in reducing absenteeism.
- Confidentiality is a protected employee right in the following areas:
 - Right to confidentiality regarding a medical absence, medical diagnoses, or other confidential medical data, shall not to be shown in the Employee Attendance Record Only the reasons for absence shall be shown.
- Depending on the nature of the medical reason for absence, the [Company] may require a medical certificate confirming the employee's fitness to return to work. Medical absences of [Three (3)] or more working days must be reported by medical certification; The medica certificate shall be forwarded to the Human Resources/Payroll Department for inclusion in the employee's Medical File.
