Accessibility Smart: Make it Your Business

The Ontario marketplace is becoming more diverse and businesses need to reflect the customers they serve to better understand them and fill their needs. By creating an inclusive and supportive work environment for people with disabilities, employers can reach into different segments of the community and appeal to a wider customer base.

Click on the image below: