

information-sharing

written by Conner Lantz | January 7, 2021

I work for an organization in British Columbia that has several different programs (e.g. health, child welfare, education, training) and I am looking for a policy that guides how these different programs can share client information between themselves (with the client's permission obviously).