

Termination notice & pay for construction companies with both field and office staff?

written by hri_Admin | May 20, 2021

How do the Alberta termination guidelines apply to a company that has both office and field staff? Construction workers don't need to have notice of termination or termination pay. Are the office staff of said company still governed under the construction worker exception or do regular standards apply to them if they work in the office?