

When relocating an employee do you provide a new employment contract? – Alberta

written by Conner Lantz | August 18, 2021

Hello, I am temporarily relocating an employee to California for 1 year upon which time they will relocate back to Alberta to their previous job. Do you typically provide the employee a new employment contract with all of the terms and conditions or is there some other document/amendment that you provide the employee?