

Illegal Reprisals – Know The Laws Of Your Province

written by Tina Tsonis | January 26, 2022

Don't punish employees for exercising their workplace rights.

Reprisals, aka, discriminatory action, refers to punishing employees for engaging in activities that are legally protected, such as complaining to government authorities or blowing the whistle on internal wrongdoing. And if you do it, you face liability. Here's a summary of the activities protected against reprisal under criminal, OHS, human rights, labour relations, employment standards and other laws
