Leadership Intelligence
Employee Engagement and the Hourly Employee

"Employee engagement" is different than "employee satisfaction." Engagement involves the hearts, hands, and minds of employees, working together. Satisfaction is prerequisite to engagement. Declassified research and analysis of over 12 million employee survey responses has identified five essential elements of employee engagement: meaning, autonomy, growth, impact, and connection. Without these five elements, no employee can be fully engaged in his or her job. However, these five elements may look different to hourly and exempt employees.
