

Home Workspace & Telecommuting Safety Policy

The OHS laws of most jurisdictions require employers to protect the health and safety of employees who perform their regular job duties off-site, including telecommuters who work out of a home office. Here's a Model Policy you can adapt to ensure that telecommuting arrangements are carried out safely and in accordance with OHS requirements.