We are pleased to provide some information about a new Canadian Immigration program that does not require a job offer!

Morden, Manitoba, has created a unique immigration program for attracting individuals interested in immigrating to Canada. The program is open to a variety of applicants, including many who could do not currently qualify under any other Canadian immigration programs. The City of Morden is offering formal support to individuals seeking to immigrate to the province of Manitoba, who do not have any friends or relatives in the province, or anywhere else in Canada.

This innovative initiative is called Morden's Community Driven Immigration Initiative and is an excellent program for certain individuals. The program is designed to fill labor shortages in the city, the city will nominate individuals with work experience in particular fields. Occupations currently eligible for the program include manufacturing, cabinet making, welding, industrial sewing machine operators, and childcare and daycare workers. These occupations may change to meet the needs of the labour market in Morden, so interested applicants should check back often to ensure their occupation remains on this list.

In order to qualify for Morden's Community Driven Immigration Initiative an applicant must meet a variety of requirements. Applicants must:

- Be under 45 years old (and over 21 years old), not have any family members, friends or previous work experience anywhere in Canada
- Have completed, within the last 5 years, a minimum of two years of full-time work experience

- Score a minimum of 5 in each area of English proficiency on the IELTS exam
- Have a real intention to reside and live in Morden, Manitoba
- Have lived in a rural area and have the ability to integrate into the local culture and adapt to the climate
