Pandemic Business Travel Safety Policy

During times of pandemic, business travel should be restricted and allowed only for essential business that must be done in-person and can't be delayed until the pandemic ends. Employers also need to impose clear requirements to minimize infection risks before during travel and ensure a safe return to work after the trip ends. Here's a Model Policy based on current public health guidelines that you can adapt.