

Pay Transparency

Recorded Date: Thursday February 22, 2024

Time: 9:00-10:00 AM (PST)

Speaker: Veronica Rossos, Partner

Pay transparency has become the hottest thing in cutting edge HR law. Many jurisdictions have recently adopted pay transparency laws and others are sure to follow. As HR director, you need to ensure that your organization complies with these new laws. Implementing pay transparency might also be advisable as a best practice even if it's not currently a legal requirement in your province.

Speaker: Veronica Rossos, Partner is a member of the Firm's Labour & Employment group. While her practice focus is on labour and employment, she also has extensive experience in commercial litigation. Veronica is called to the BC and Ontario Bars, and she has appeared in superior and appellate level courts, provincial and federal human rights tribunals, and labour relations boards in British Columbia, Alberta and Ontario. Veronica has advised clients across Canada and in numerous industries including mining, food processing, real estate and property management, information technology, shipping and logistics, and construction and infrastructure. She has assisted employers with all manner of workplace, employment, human rights, and labour relations issues.
