

Perceptions of Women in Senior Positions

written by vickyp | April 29, 2020

Perceptions of Women in Senior Positions.

How are we doing?

Research shows that having a higher proportion of women in executive positions increases a company's:

- operating margins
- total return to shareholders
- stock price growth
- operating results

BUT...

The number of women in senior positions has stagnated.

We surveyed 876 women and men from across Canada, both in management and non-management positions. Here's what we found.

How are women viewed in senior positions? Find out by clicking the infographic below.