PROCEDURES

When candidates apply for positions at [Company Name], they consent in writing to a credit check to be performed when determined to be necessary by the company.

Credit checks are not done for all candidates. They are conducted when an applicant has been interviewed and is selected as a final candidate for a qualifying position. Although results of the credit check may take a few days to obtain, every effort is made to avoid delay in the hiring process.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR CONDUCTING CREDIT CHECK

The HR department is responsible for obtaining and reviewing all credit checks for qualifying internal positions. The director of human resources reviews the information obtained when a credit check is required for a hiring decision and provides the results to management personnel involved in the hiring process. Access to this information is strictly limited to employees of the HR department and others on a need-to-know basis to ensure that the privacy of the candidate is respected. Staffing agencies will conduct credit checks on temporary employees and will apply the following disqualification standards prior to referring for placement at [Company Name].

DISQUALIFICATION OF CANDIDATE

If the credit check reveals that the candidate for hire or transfer has a history of bad debt, the individual may be disqualified from the position. “Bad debt” is defined as debt that has been referred for collection, has a balance past due more than 60 days or has been written or charged off by the creditor. Bad debt is not considered a risk if it is more than five years old, the result of the candidate’s student loan obligations, or incurred through extensive medical care for the candidate or his or her immediate family members or dependents. Bad debt is considered a risk if it exceeds 10 percent of the salary for the position being filled, regardless of the time period in which the debt was incurred (excluding medical debt and student loans).

[Company Name] complies with all federal and state law requirements for consumer and credit reports when information contained in the reports is used as a basis for taking adverse action against the individual. If a credit check on a current employee provides adverse information, the employee will be referred to the HR department for review and resolution.
