

Telephone Monitoring Policy

Members of [Company Name]'s management team, or their designees, may listen in on customer service lines to ensure that employees are being respectful and responsive to customers, or for other legitimate business purposes. Customer service calls may also be monitored for training purposes to critique customer service skills and provide feedback for job performance as needed.