

WSIB Announced New and Amended Policies Effective November 1, Addressing Work-Related Injury Issues:

- A new policy addressing pre-existing conditions offers guidance on distinguishing work related and non-work related injury when pre-existing conditions are involved.
- A new determining permanent impairment policy establishes requirements for demonstrating a work-related permanent impairment based on clinical evidence.
- Revisions to the recurrences policy address benefit determinations in the case of recurring work related injuries or illness.

Replacement of five work disruption policies with two policies discussing temporary and permanent work disruptions, setting criteria for determining if additional earnings loss during work disruption is due to work-related injury or disease
